Article 4: Course of the games

1) Cadence

The rounds are fought at the Fischer 10'+ 3s / move.

2) Applicable game rules

The rules applied are those of the 88th FIDE Congress held in Goynuk (Antalya, Turkey) and adopted by the FIDE office in Athens, as well as Appendix A.4 for quick games.

Players who challenge each other on an online site must therefore be particularly vigilant to verify that they are playing against the right opponent (pseudo) at the right pace with the right colours.

3) launch of online games

Players will receive the devices indicating the pseudo of their future opponent on WhatsApp.
The driver of the whites will have to challenge his opponent on the lichess.org site in the indicated pace (10 '+ 3s / move)

they will all be part of the Sogeres Trophy team.

It is more than recommended to practice before the tournament begins to avoid any concerns during the tournament.

4) Intervention of the arbitrator

In the event of a dispute, the score displayed by lichess will prevail.

The players are invited to consult the referee for any questions regarding the rules or the procedure also to resolve any conflict.

5) end of the tournament

The top 3 player in the final ranking are invited to come to the zoom comments at the end of the last round to discuss with the organization and the partners.

Article 5: Results

Winning players (the white driver in a draw) must announce their results via the WhatsApp app to the referee.

In one of these forms

lichess username table xx: wins

lichess username table xx: 1-0

lichess username table xx: null

The lack of results will result in a double defeat for the players.

Article 6: Forfeiting

Any player absent from the chessboard for a period of 10 minutes and 3 seconds after starting his pendulum will lose the game by forfeit:

- Any player forfeiting without warning the arbitrator will not be matched to the next round.
- Any player committing two forfeiting (consecutive or not) will be excluded from the tournament.

In case of disconnection lichess.org leaves time to reconnect and resume the game otherwise the game will be saved as lost.
